

Pedro Leão Neto has a degree in architecture by the Porto School of Architecture - (FAUP, 1992) where he is currently the head of a Photography Teaching Unit. He is the coordinator of the research group CCRE in the R&D CEAU-FAUP and has a PhD in Urban Design Representation and Communication: Computer Visualisation and Public Perception in Contemporary Portugal (University of Manchester, 2002). He has curated several photography exhibitions, and is the author of several articles and publications focused on Documentary and Artistic Photography related with Architecture, City and Territory. He is commissioner of the International Photography and Architecture conference ON THE SURFACE, as well as coordinator of scopio EDITIONS, scopio Magazine and scopionetwork platform.